Liberal Member Says Aberhart Dodges Problem

Government Should Use Powers to Reduce Interest Rates Immediately—Is Within Province of Premier if Action Wished

Charging that the Aberhart government had completely overlooked Alberta's most pressing problem, and calling on them to take drastic action to relieve the overpowering burden, George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal member for Edmonton, came to the support of "the forgotten man" on Thursday afternoon in continuing his speech in the debate.

Challenging the government to translate words into action, Mr. Van Allen pointed out that while the public debt was high, the private debt load in Alberta is the biggest single problem of the producers, the workers and the home owners, and that until some government action was taken to reduce existing interest rates, all talk was futile.

Alberta's Most Pressing Problem

"In my belief, the great and most pressing problem of the people is the weight of private debts and interest. Much has been said about the crushing burden of the Public Debt. I fear it has been emphasized far too much. The real and almost overpowering burden on the people is not the public debt, but the private debts of individuals," said Mr. Van Allen.

"The private debt load is the biggest single problem of producers, the workers and the home owners. This load is chiefly due to the accumulation of interest at high and exorbitant rates, mainly accumulated since 1930, a period of restricted markets and therefore lower prices. This load has become a nightmare to the people. It is the plain duty of the government to act," he continued.

While the present increase in the price level, due to better markets is most encouraging, it could not be looked on as a remedy for the situation.

Means Only Postponement of Fatal Day

"The proposed amendment to the Debt Adjustment Act by extending the zero date from July 1, 1932, to July 1, 1935, is no remedy either. It is only a stop-postponement—just delay—just more and more piling up of debts, with all the evils of the present rate continued," said Mr. Van Allen. "Blockade is not the remedy. There is only one remedy—and that is real debt adjustment on a basis fair to creditors and fair to debtors coupled with refunding over a period of years and at lower rates of interest. This remedy lies within the power of the government."

"The producers, workers and homeowners cannot pay the current rates of 7%, 8%, 9%, and 10% on debts. They cannot pay more than 5% and more over they will never pay more than 5%."

"The federal government has recognized this and recently has cut down interest rates on mortgages to the Canadian Farm Loan Board to 5%. In Ontario the government is lending money to farmers at 4% and amortised over 20 years."

COVENANTS CRASHED IN BITTER ASSAULT BY EDMONTON W.L.A.

Charging that "nothing but disaster and disillusionment can come from the putting into practice of the Aherhart Social Credit proposals," George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal, Edmonton, in speaking in the debate on the Speech from the Throne in the legislature on Wednesday, declared that "these schemes in my opinion will disillusion and sicken the citizens who really believed in and voted for them, but the disaster will be chiefly to the farmer and workers of this province."

Mr. Van Allen was still speaking when the house rose at 3 p.m. on Thursday. He started speaking at 5:20 p.m. on Wednesday, after efforts had been made by J. H. Unwin, S.C., Edmonton, to block his address on a technicality.

Continues Today

Mr. Van Allen will continue when the house meets on Thursday.

The address for the most part was a complete, full analysis of the covenants used in connection with the Social Credit registration. Strong criticism was advanced by Mr. Van Allen, on account of use of the covenants. He charged that they were absolutely unnecessary in view of the government's pre-election promises.

He charged that "a promise to pay dividends to every bona fide citizen of Alberta is not fulfilled by requiring the citizen to sign these covenants. In fact the insistence of the government on these covenants, is a clear-cut breach of the Premier's pre-election promises."

Mr. Van Allen said:

At the threshold of my remarks, I wish to extend my compliments to the mover and seconder of the motion as presented to His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, in a very commendable manner. I have discharged their duties in a very commendable manner.

In the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, the question of the Social Credit proposals was raised. I have already said that I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals. I have already said that I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals. I have already said that I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals.

and voted for them, but the disaster will be chiefly to the farmer and workers of this province. I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals. I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals. I am not in favor of the Social Credit proposals.

On the other hand, I may be grooved more than usual interest. It shows a party of Capitalists and the Provincial Secretary may be completely right. The people believed that they were right and that we were wrong. Again I say, we regret their decision.

So I say to the Government, if this scheme succeeds, then the Premier and his leaders will receive our wholehearted support and praise, because the people against poverty shall have been won, and more than that, the Premier will become not only a national, but a world leader.

On the other hand, if the scheme fails and disillusionment and disaster, as I have suggested, occur, then, in fairness, I think, and I know that the people think, that this government ought immediately to resign. In either case the Premier and his leaders will really deserve the results.

TWEEDSMUIR SAYS COLONIES DEARLY BOUGHT

Governor-General Opens Exhibition, Climax of Jubilee

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27.—Canada has a reason to be proud of her record, declared Lord Tweedsmuir yesterday in a dedication of the exhibition in an address to the Canadian Club.

"There is no one, I am convinced, in Britain or the Dominions, who will ever come to treat our great network of historic responsibilities as a burden," he said.

"I would protest most strongly against the notion that we can win our colonies by a lucky gamble. We have been making our colonies by the sweat and blood of our people."

"The making was to my mind, a far greater national effort than any, the making of modern cities."

Under these circumstances I say frankly, that in my view nothing but disaster and disillusionment can come from the putting into practice of the Aherhart Social Credit proposals as explained by the Premier. I repeat that this is my view. I repeat that this is my view. I repeat that this is my view.

Wedding Takes Place Beneath Floral Arch

Beneath an archway of brilliant fall blossoms, intertwined with greenery, Isabel MacKenzie Maclean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Maclean of Red Deer and William Maclean, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Maclean of Calgary, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday afternoon at a ceremony which centered the interest of many friends in southern Alberta.

At two o'clock, the marriage laws were read by Rev. Hugh Jack.

Given away by her father, the bride was a regal figure, dressed as she was with simple distinction in an ensemble of white silk. She carried a veil of gladioli.

Mrs. Maclean wore a becoming flowered crepe gown with white accessories and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The bridegroom's mother was given in a navy mode dress, and a corsage of crimson roses.

The reception which followed, Rev. Hugh Jack toasted the bride and the bridegroom.

Centring the brides table was a three tiered wedding cake flanked by two vases filled with sweet peas.

Following a honeymoon at Banff and Lake Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Maclean will be at home to their friends in Red Deer.

For her mother part the bride wore a two brown woven suit with matching accessories.

CLEVER YOUNG VIOLINIST WINS SIGNAL HONOR

Placed to continue her studies, she will be in the city for a course until next year and leave time to take up her musical studies in London sometime before next September.

THE summer's culottes and pantaloons, plus frocks are designed for the fall shooting season. They are good for fishing and sports too. Lady Esprit of London, designer of sports clothes, asserted when she first proposed that women should don terry tops after the sporting season in Scotland. The masculine world frowned at the idea of women claiming their plus frocks, but it is long since they have given them up themselves, for good, because they say they like slacks better. So let this be a hint to you.

This, however, is a late side-note—chance for women to attire themselves modestly and sensibly for outdoors. Actually a summary of the fall styles shows a complete throw-back to femininity. Paris is saying that huge sleeves, pleatings and all sorts of fringes have the time of day.

There has been a distinctly romantic note about many of the loveliest gowns. At the Texas central, the trend was encouraged by full skirted frocks were shown with flower and ruffles cut to resemble flowers.

END OF SUMMER
Lena Adams Hill in the New York Times.

All at once the summer was over and ended.

A keen wind shifted east, and it was fall.

Green into darker green, beech trees and tall.

Maples were colored first that rippled and rustled.

Before the winds of Autumn.

Summer and brooding, and odd rain.

A drive of joy, jangling. We shook the dreams of Summer from our eyes, we were.

Once more toward the Autumn of the year.

For all at once the summer was over and ended.

Along the marches where, like bits of blue.

Leaves fallen from heaven, the gems thins grew.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brine accompanied by their two little children, Margaret and Charles, and Mrs. Sadie Martin have returned from their summer vacation at Victoria.

Steam Wave Is Help In Caring For Hair

By GLADYS GLAD
"Dear Miss Glad: Quite some time ago you wrote an article on the effectiveness of steam-waving for developing a nice wave in the hair. My hair has a slight tendency to curliness, and I think I really could train a pretty wave in it. I'd like to try the steam-waving, therefore, and would be grateful if you advise me as to the proper procedure."

"ROSALIE,"
In steam-waving the hair first should be given a hot oil treatment as described in my "Hair Beautifying" booklet, and a thorough shampooing. Then it should be permitted to dry. When completely dry, it should be combed flat, and non-inflammable cream should be placed in the hair—close together if narrow waves are desired, and farther apart if wide. These waves are wanted. Next, a wide-mouthed net or wave-drip should be placed over the head, and the head held over a kettle receptacle of steaming water for about four or five minutes. It should be combed, be held close enough to the receptacle to enable the scales to become raised. After the steaming, the hair should be permitted to dry, then the net or comb may be removed, and the hair gently combed out.

"Dear Miss Glad: I'm a housewife. I have very brittle hair. I'm forced to put my hands in water often, wear rubber gloves. This has some bearing on their brittleness. The nails split, too, and break my hands and are most unattractive. Have you a remedy?"

"If you do a lot of housework, wear gloves to your hands. Use a good soap containing strong alkalis. If you must keep your hands in water often, wear rubber gloves. Also make sure that your diet is zinc white and a little turpentine.

This paint can be mixed at home, with the oils in proportion to the kind of work to be done. As an example, paint for a priming coat requires more oil and turpentine than paint for a finishing coat. The kind of oil to be used is of great importance

BASEBALL TAKES FIRMER HOLD IN BASEBALL LEAGUE

LOOKING THEM OVER

By JACK KELLY
No Word of Protest Yet—Canadian Officials Go To The Crying Wall About Pros

While a number of rumors were current around the boulevards yesterday that Manager Dick Speer of the Cardinals would lodge a protest against the Calgary Mustangs using Semenza and Greger of Ponoka in the playoffs, no word of such action has yet been received by the executive of the Northern League. It seems that in absence of such, it can be taken that no protest will be made. A late protest, which if upheld would not take the first two games of the playoff, would be a bad thing for baseball just now.

Harry Scott, sports editor of the Albertan, sends me the southern slant on the matter as follows:

"Reports that Dick Speer, manager of the Edmonton Cardinals, would lodge a protest against the Mustangs using two Ponoka Panthers in remaining games of two championship playoff did not materialize prior to Wednesday's contest. Speer, the big good-natured sport that he is, doesn't take kindly to the way the Mustangs-Panthers all-star lineup has been mauling his boys around. In 3-1 and 5-0 setbacks, but he is taking his defeats with the best of spirits.

Mustangs Badly Crippled

"Without the assistance of two Edmonton Shasta hurlers and the two Ponoka infielders, the Mustangs would have given the Cards any opposition worth while, as they had lost the services of Joyce, Daoust and Lilly, while Dufrene is suffering from a lame arm which made it necessary to shift him from the infield to the outfield.

"Thursday night's game will windup baseball in this city, for the teams travel to Edmonton for the final game or games of the playoff. Then it will be up to the Cards to show their true form back home in Renfrew Park. In the meantime you can put Dick Speer down as a genuine sportsman, for he made a great gesture—one that will do baseball more good than harm.

Pro Ghost Harming!

If you are like the immortal Will Rogers and only know what you see in the papers you would probably define an amateur official as a gentleman who spends all his time worrying for fear someone has received some money out of sports activities. Certainly most of their time seems to be spent in sparring with this spectre of professionalism.

The latest blast comes from the Canadian officials returning from the Berlin Olympic Games and certainly leaves much to be desired in the form of good sportsmanship. Canada never had a chance this year and everyone knew it—including these officials. To come home waving excuses and charging that the Europeans had developed a new form of professionalism in government subsidizing athletes gives Canada a black eye which no amount of losses could have done.

There is no use in rehearsing the reason for Canada's failure to rank higher. Everyone knows that it was not the population, facilities, climatic conditions and national temperament to produce outstanding athletes in the sports which make up the bulk of the program. It was not our best, so why holler? Fortunately the crying so far has not come from any Canadian athletes, but is restricted to the officials.

Could It Be Balance?

If it is true that European athletes were paid by some governments for the time they lost in training for national glory and whoop-de-doo, what of it? All it proves is that this line the A.A.U. of C. heads have been giving out for years about the sanctity of amateur status for Olympic purposes is just what we always thought it was—baloney. If several of the leading countries in the world can pay their Olympic contenders, by what possible line of reasoning can the A.A.U. of C. prevent Canadian athletes from joining the team as a professional? A Canadian amateur hockey player becomes so contaminated that he is likely to endanger the whole Olympic structure?

We have a lot to respect for the tedious work which a number of A.A.U. of C. officials do to maintain the needed national organization. We also feel that the great majority of them are honestly convinced of the soundness of their stand on amateur and professional status. But we are likewise convinced that this stand is all wrong, hopelessly behind the times and conditions, and the greatest drawback that sport in Canada has to overcome.

It's Up To You

On the other hand, the blame for this condition rests on those who are protesting against it. The men who see its faults will not accept posts in amateur bodies which would eventually lead them to a position where they could remedy these conditions. For years the A.A.U. of C. elections have been suffering from a sort of rot. Right now you can name the man who will be the president in 1940—barring his sudden death in the meantime. Election by seniority and precedent are all right to a certain extent but it can be overcome.

So far as Western Canada is concerned, no one is very much concerned about Olympic relations and contests, but a number of athletes are concerned when these matters start gumming up around them. As such as hockey, football and similar games. Hockey has led the way in throwing down the gauntlet and there is every indication that several more gamblers will be offered the A.A.U. of C. shortly.

Stores Take Lead In C.N.R. Softball

Defeat Apprentices By 16 to 11 Score At Queens Avenue

Stores took a terrific lead in the C.N.R. Softball League playoffs by downing the Apprentices 16-11 Wednesday night at Queens Ave. action started at 7:30. This was the third game of a two-sided first round series between the Stores and the Apprentices. The Apprentices made a slight change in their lineup for last night's encounter but were defeated 16-11. The Stores played steady ball and were worthy victors. Bell and Blum-son of the Apprentices were the only hitters of the evening with four hits. The men who see its faults will not accept posts in amateur bodies which would eventually lead them to a position where they could remedy these conditions. For years the A.A.U. of C. elections have been suffering from a sort of rot. Right now you can name the man who will be the president in 1940—barring his sudden death in the meantime. Bob Battles Bruiser

Bob Cummings, once a bad boy but now one of the most popular middle-weight grapplers with Edmonton fans, makes his return bout on Friday evening at the Empire Theatre when he meets Al Westcott, the famed tough from Chicago in a semi-main bout. Cummings and Westcott will support the headline event of Promoter Chalkers' show, a main event in which Remy Kink meets John Desnick, Edmonton's finest wrestler who has made "big time" over the United States. The lineup for the three main events is a natural. There will be every kind of action and the excitement should reach new heights as these four stars of the mat come into it.

New York Giants Widen Gap with Cardinals by Nosing Out Cincinnati

Reds Lose 6-5 as Bees Again Dig Stingers In Redbirds By 10-4 Triumph—Gothamites Now Two and a Half Games Ahead

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.—New York Giants' winning streak reached 14 straight yesterday as they defeated Cincinnati Reds 6-5 although Carl Hubbell almost blew the game in the victory.

The triumph was his 19th of the season and his ninth straight since last defeat on July 13. Victory against the Reds, who had lost three of their last four games, gave the Giants what was a double-ouster of the Reds from first place in the National League.

Hubbell and Mearns, Derfingier, Stine, Fry and Lumbard, Ruffalo, Brown, White, Glicker and Tiers 10-0.

Cardinal Loss
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Boston Bees sank their slingers deep into the Cardinals' season yesterday, winning 10-4, and placing St. Louis in a hole from which it is hard to see how it can get out.

Cuba Advance With Doubleheader Win
CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The third place Cubs bounced their bats yesterday to take both ends of a doubleheader from Philadelphia.

Philadelphia's 10-4 victory over the Cubs yesterday was the first of their 10 hits off Claude Passeau for all their four runs in the third inning. Loss, 10-4, was the first of the season for the Cardinals.

ENGLISH CLUBS READY FOR BIG SOCCER SEASON

Club Officials Hope For Larger Gates From All Points

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Footballers throughout England and Wales are getting the finishing touches to their training for the opening of the soccer season. The English League season starts Aug. 28 with concluding games May 1, 1937.

Economic conditions in the United Kingdom are brighter than for many years and football officials believe the season will be one of the most prosperous in the history of the game. Several of the larger clubs in the country returned good balance sheets for last season's operations, the profits being used for purchase of new players and for improving ground accommodation.

STARTS NEXT WEEK
Sir Charles Glegg, president of the Football Association, starts his first year as a member of the governing body, and Charles J. Sulcliffe of Rawlston succeeds the late John H. Glegg as president of the Football League.

Sunderland, a highly attractive team in the past few years, won its first league title in 1929, and this year has its eyes turned to Wembley and the English Cup. The Rotherham team has never succeeded in winning the English League title.

Blackburn Rovers, who were missing from first division play for the first time since the Football League was formed in 1888. The club, winners of league and cup trophies on many occasions, displayed poor form all winter and were relegated to the second division.

The Villagers' relegation came about despite the expenditure of £10,000 on new players. The new men played well but a match-winning combination by the end of the season. The club's relegation was a surprise to many.

Manchester United return to the first division after several seasons in the second. They will be accompanied by Charlton Athletic, who have been relegated from the first division.

PROPOSAL DEFERRED
Derby County's drastic proposal to reduce the number of clubs in the first division from 22 to 18 was thrown out at the annual meeting of the Football League.

GOAL-SCORING RECORD
Goal-scoring records for the season were set by Jimmy Greaves, who scored 30 goals in 34 appearances for Luton Town. He created a record for league football by scoring 10 goals in 12 appearances.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL COCHRANE Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

As Doty swung in open air, fair Goldy shouted, "Please take care! Don't try to travel too fast, or it's likely you will fall." When I climb on the ice and snow, on no more such trips will I go. "I don't blame you," said Goldy, "for not waiting any more."

and thus far nothing has gone wrong. Apparently the seal is holding tightly to the rope. "You too, cling to the other end and I know on you I can depend." "You bet you can," yelled Coppy. "And the big seal, too, I hope." Then, for a while, no word was said. The bunch watched Doty hand ahead. Her progress really was quite slow. "Seal, see, I thought that best. Once you're stopped and looked about, a tiny cry, 'Are you safe and sound, just look now,' we Doty answered. 'I just want to take a rest.' "You see, the distance is quite far from where I was in where hand and I will pull you up. You know that I am strong enough." Then Coppy said, "I'll pull her, too. The whole task is not up to you. Why should I hand and watch you work until you pass and puff!" In just about a minute more the Tronities let out a roar; as Doty landed safely. Then their faces spread in grins. "That seal," said one, "is tickled. He seems to realize that you are safe and sound. Just look now he is clapping with his fins." (The Times meet a strange man in the next story.)

HUMAN BEINGS
BREATHE OUT ENOUGH CARBON EVERY HOUR TO MAKE A TWO CARAT DIAMOND

Diamonds consist of the element carbon, pure and uncombined. They are of the same material as the sort of a lamp chimney, or the so-called head of a pencil, but with the molecules arranged in a different way. The carbon we breathe out is in the form of carbonic acid gas.
